

Evening MBA Foundation Modules: Instructions for Applicants

Welcome to UCF's Evening MBA Foundation online assessments and modules in accounting, economics, finance, and business statistics. These are offered through McGraw-Hill's Connect online learning management system and are designed to help you build the foundational knowledge needed to succeed in your Evening MBA program at UCF.

All Evening MBA Applicants are required to take the initial assessments and upload scores to the application regardless of undergraduate major or work experience.

TAKING THE INITIAL ASSESSMENTS.

Take each of the four free Initial Assessments in accounting, economics, finance, and business statistics. These assessments may only be taken once and they are timed, so be sure to complete each one during the time allotted.

- a. Go to <http://connect.mheducation.com/class/u-administrator-start-here---initial-assessment>
- b. Click on REGISTER NOW to create your account.
- c. Once your account is created, you will be taken automatically to the Initial Assessments assignment list. Work through each assessment in the order that they are presented.
- d. Take a single screenshot of all 4 initial assessment scores and upload them to your application through the online application portal here, <https://applynow.graduate.ucf.edu/apply/status>. You can only upload the screenshot after your application has been submitted. The screenshot must display your first and last name and list each subject and the associated assessment score. Below your application portal checklist, you can select to upload the screenshot to "initial assessments". Be sure to complete the remainder of your missing checklist items and your application will then be reviewed.

This next section is only required for applicants who receive an admissions offer.

If you scored 70% or above on any Initial Assessment, you do not need to proceed further into the content modules for that specific subject. If you scored 70% or above on all of the Initial Assessments then nothing additional is needed for this requirement.

If you scored below 70% on any one or more of the Initial Assessments, you would need to purchase access to the online module(s) associated with the specific discipline(s) in which you scored below 70%, complete the Foundation Module and Final Assessment and submit your scores.
